

Advice for writing the report

1. The report is just as important as the program
2. Write so that other people can understand your report
3. Be precise
4. Use code fragments in order to make your documentation more concrete
5. Use figures
6. Explain how to run the program
7. Describe how you have tested the program and show the results